CYPHER Agent:
Closing the gaps on course development and delivery for L&D and trainers

See how CYPHER Agent closes time, speed, and cost gaps in course creation and delivery – including AI-powered content creation, skill management mapping, assessments, AI Crosscheck, gamification, and so much more!

Everyday L&D and trainer gaps

Time gap
Never enough time

Developing quality content for a single course takes 40+ hours to build and launch, slowing down pipeline and other business aspects. L&D and trainers will never have enough time to bridge the gap - no bandwidth to map skills, assessments, or gamification to training content for better engagement and tracking.

Speed gap
Never enough people

L&D and trainers can't keep up with the course and training demands from numerous business units on top of onboarding, compliance, and other duties. Plus, you receive requests to have programs and courses done...like yesterday! You can never move fast enough.

Cost gap
Never enough money

Traditional course development and delivery is expensive. You need multiple tools to produce one quality, comprehensive course – a cumbersome and complex endeavor costing you precious time, money, and energy.
